Application Comments Jomfrische was founded in 1992 and was the first european to release a.NET based Note Taking Application. Jomfrische is renowned for developing .NET-based applications, which are normally much more powerful and extendable than standard notetakers. From simple note taking applications such as Jomfrische Notes, to complex database applications, such as Jomfrische Business. Jomfrische Notes is the classic note taking program, developed in the early 1990s. It is both a simple program for taking notes, as well as a reference database of notes and their contents. The notes can be sorted by date (or any other criteria) and be tagged accordingly. The notes can be exported as HTML or XLS to allow sharing of your notes. Jomfrische Notebook, released in 2002, provides a database of notes and their contents, allowing you to search by topic and tags. The notes can be classified by relevance level, and then sorted by date or topic. Jomfrische Business is a database which allows you to classify your notes by relevance, then into topic categories. All your notes can be exported as HTML or CSV to a variety of formats. This is one of the best.NET based note taking software. It's clean and straight-forward interface makes it easy to use, and it's backed by a powerful and expandable database system.
